

Research Interests

Macroeconomic Theory, Information Economics, Heterogeneous Macro

Education

University of Minnesota PhD in Economics Supervisor: Anmol Bhandari	2023–present
CERGE-EI M.A. in Economics and PhD Track Supervisor: Filip Matejka	2019–2023
Lomonosov Moscow State University Bachelor of Economics	2015–2019

Research Experience

London School of Economics Research Fellow, Fall 2022 Supervisor: Ricardo Reis	London, UK
Gaidar Institute for Economic Policy Researcher, Center for Macroeconomics and Finances, Macroeconomic Modeling Department	2018–2019

Publications and Working Papers

- 2020: Koval, P. and Polbin, A. “Estimation of the consumption function of Russian households using RLMS microdata,” Economics Bulletin, 40(3), pp. 2254–2261.
- 2025: Koval, P. “Information acquisition, urgent production, and welfare.”

Conferences and Seminars

- 2026: North American Summer Meeting of the Econometric Society; Midwest Theory Conference; Boston College 2nd PhD Conference
- 2024: 12th UECE Conference: Economic and Financial Adjustments in Europe
- 2022: Research seminars at CERGE-EI and LSE

Workshops, Awards, and Service

- Workshops: Big-Data (Stanford, 2025), Data Economy Summer School (2025)
- Service: Referee for Economics Bulletin
- Awards: Distinguished Teacher Award (2023–2025); Best BA Thesis (Lomonosov MSU, 2019)
- Grants: Charles University Mobility Grant (2022)

Teaching Experience

- Lecturer: Cost-Benefit Analysis (UMN, 2025); Public Economy (Lomonosov State, 2022)
- TA (UMN): ECON 1165 (Principles of Microeconomics) for Adway De, 2023–2024
- TA (CERGE): Macroeconomics I (PhD level), Econometrics II (PhD level), Statistics (PhD level), 2020–2022

Technical and Personal Skills

- | | |
|--|--|
| Software: Julia, R, Matlab, LaTeX | Languages: English (Fluent), Russian (Native) |
| Other: Green Card holder (Full U.S. work authorization) | |